SMEF OVER NATIONS AT WAR Embraced a Long and Noted Career.

A SKETCH OF AGED PONTIFF

Rome, Aug. 20 .- Pope Pius X. clied at 1:20 this morning. He had Wednesday morning.

Throughout the day Drs. Marchfafava and Amici devoted their utmost energies to stimulating their patient and keeping him alive. The cardinals were notified of the Pope's grave condition and some of them who entered the sick room describe the scenes as impressive and heartrending, especially when the pontiff, rousing himself from time to time, spoke.

Once he said, "In ancient times, the Pope by a word might have stayed the slaughter, but now he is impotent.

Prayers were said by thousands, and church bells sounded when sacrament was exposed upon all altars. When the court learned of the Pope's condition there was the deepest concern.

Extreme unction was administered to his holiness by Monsignor Seampini Sacristan amid most touching scenes. The Pope's sisters and his niece were overcome by grief. Cardinal Merry Del Val knelt by the Bedside where other cardinals joined him, members of the household intoning prayers.

The dying Pope in a moment of Rucidity said: "Now I begin to think the Almighty, in His inexhaustible goodness, wishes to spare me the horrors Europe is undergoing."

The Pope's last illness began almost coincidentally with the great European war. Those close to him believe his grief over the situation brought on the final crisis and so everwhelmed him that he was unable in his eightieth year to withstand another attack of his old enemy, gouty catarrh.

Guiseppe Melchiorre Sarto, known to the world as Pope Pius X., was elected to the Pontificate on August 4, 1903, and during his occupancy of his exalted office, head of the Romean Catholic Church, he was conmentous problems, religious and imously on August 4, assuming the during the last troubled weeks what governmental, with which the Holy title of: See has had to deal in modern times.

Memoirs of Napoleon

The personal reminiscences of Baron de Méneval, for thirteen years private secretary to Napoleon Bonaparte, bring out, as no history can, many enlightening and interesting side lights on the character of that greatest of leaders. De Méneval's descriptions have the piquancy and interest possible only because he was an actual eyewitness of the scenes and incidents of which he writes. Their reliability and historical interest can be judged by the fact that the very conservative French Academy publicly recommends them.

The 12 German destroyers of 1912-13 have been completed. The designed speed of all the recent boats is 32.5 knots. The boats have been kept very actively at work. The submarine boats completed number tons about 30. During 1913 24 submarines were kept in commission.

MORE COAL THAN WOULD FILL THE PANAMA CANAL

It is gratifying to learn from experts of the United States Geological Survey that originally there was enough coal in this country to make a solid block 10 miles long, ten miles wide and 10 miles high.

A block of this size would weigh more than 3,500,000,000,000 tons. and up to the present time the coal that has been removed amounts only to something like 15,000,000,000

The coal mined during 1914 will amount to about 600,000,000 tons, containing about 300,000,000 cubic

Just how much coal this is can be partly estimated when it is said that it is far greater than the excavation of the Panama Canal; that the total excavation for the Panama Canal from start to finish is computed at some 262,000,000 cubic yards.

In the face of this there is talk of the price of coal going to $20 a ton this winter. Of course, warships and merchant steamships will want more Napoleon's Memoirs Offered Free Together With Collier's Weekly and Hartford Herald.

History repeats itself-but with variations. A hundred years ago of 60,000 men and two months' time France alone, under the leadership of Napoleon, faced Germany, Austria, Italy, Russia and Great Britain

> At thirty-six, Napoleon had conquered every nation of Europe and in battle of Austerlitz in 1805, practically brought the continent under the subjection of the French army. Then Austria, Germany and Russia formed the great coalition against France, only to be beaten in battle until they were forced to sue for peace. England, thanks to her impregnable navy, was the only nation not forced to acknowledge Napoleon's rule.

It was the snow-covered steppes of Russia rather than the military science of Europe that finally turned the tide against him.

The present European crisis gives a particular opportuneness to the offer of Napoleon's Memoirs, announcment of which is made in another column of The Herald to-day. Few books throw a more illuminating and interesting light on the un-Europe sown with the seeds of ris-
